FIXED INCOME PERFORMANCE ATTRIBUTION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Methods and corresponding systems are provided for attributing investment portfolio performance by identifying one or more fixed income securities that contributes to the performance of an investment portfolio, and decomposing the performance of the fixed income security into one or more components that correspond to the performance attributed to at least one investment strategy that contributes to the performance of the identified fixed income security.